

CAPITAL IS CROWDED

Vast Crowds Pouring Into Washington To-day

FOR TAFT INAUGURATION

Several Other Buildings Were Also Destroyed—Two Famous Gambling Houses in Nevada Were Burned To-day.

Washington, D. C., March 2.—The Hartford and the Pacific to-day steamed into the navy yard dock with 1,500 sailors of the Atlantic fleet who are to march at the inauguration of Taft on Thursday, and the Dixie is expected to arrive with 500 more sailors. The union station has been packed all day with thousands of incoming sight-seers. Every hotel is crowded to the doors, and folkies by the hundreds with buttons and other souvenirs for the day wander the streets.

The principal streets are lined with booths, while bands and corps of guardsmen and cadets and squads of cavalry momentarily pass amid cheers. In the White House, everything is spick and span. All traces of Roosevelt are gone except the president's flag, which hangs in its accustomed place in his secretary's office.

Meanwhile, President-elect Taft is resting quietly at the Boardman residence with comparatively little to do except to pray for fair weather. He is very anxious that Thursday's skies should favor his advent. He has had many callers, of course, but his day has not been over busy. The people who now swarm where he goes have made the incoming president realize for the first time something of the restrictions that will always surround him as an occupant of the White House. He cannot move about with the freedom he observed as a private citizen, or even as secretary of war.

The hustle and bustle of the last week of the administration is evident in Senate and House. The terrible scramble to get favorite bills enacted into law before March 4 has set in. The customary lethargy of the daily sessions has disappeared. Between doing the honors for folks from home and meeting the opportunities for legislation, Congress is working overtime.

Mrs. Taft in the Parade.

For the first time in the history of the country, the wives of the president and vice-president will, on March 4, participate in the inaugural parade. Mrs. Taft and Mrs. Sherman will join their husbands when they leave the Capitol after the inaugural ceremonies, and will proceed with them to the White House. This change of program was decided upon yesterday by the committee on arrangements, and following is the official announcement made by Chairman Senator Knox.

"After the inaugural ceremonies are finished, the president and Mrs. Taft, escorted by the joint committee on arrangements, will return to the White House in the carriage in which the president rode to the Capitol, and the vice-president and Mrs. Sherman will immediately follow them in the carriage used by the vice-president."

This change is made, and Mrs. Taft and Mrs. Sherman have consented to it, in response to the urgent request of the committee to have them accompany their respective husbands from the time the official program is completed at the Capitol.

IN McCAUSLAN HEARING.

Affidavits Presented For Burlington, Vt., man at Providence.

Providence, R. I., March 2.—George R. McCauslan of Burlington, Vt., who was taken into custody Feb. 18 on a writ of re exeat and has been at the Providence county jail since on his failure to provide bonds in the sum of $35,000, was brought into court yesterday afternoon by Warden A. J. Wilcox of the Rhode Island state prison. A hearing was granted by Presiding Justice Tanner. The case is entitled that of Edward P. Jastrim against McCauslan.

Albert Jerald, representing the complainant, recited the history of the case. Judge Tanner decided to hear the case on its merits, and affidavits were presented to show that McCauslan did not intend to leave the state.

The hearing was continued until Thursday for the presentation of additional affidavits and McCauslan was again taken to Cranston jail.

STATEWIDE PROHIBITION.

Arkansas House Passes The Bill By Big Majority.

Little Rock, Ark., March 2.—The Gann bill providing for statutory statewide prohibition passed the House yesterday by a vote of 58 to 27. The passage of the bill was followed by a demonstration by the numerous spectators. So great was the confusion that the House adjourned.

The passage of the bill followed three days of strenuous procedure during which the Simpson substitute bill providing for submission of the question to voters was lost by a vote of 35 to 44 at yesterday's session.

The Gann bill provides that liquor may be sold only by druggists for medicinal, medicinal and similar uses and that wine may be sold to churches for sacrament. Physicians must make out certificates in giving prescriptions calling for alcohol or liquor. A spirituous content in the Senate is promised when the bill is taken up by that body.

GOV. HASKELL LOSES.

Ordered to Return Certain Papers Seized From Hearst.

Guthrie, Okla., March 2.—Scott Mac Reynolds of Brooklyn, N. Y., representative of William H. Hearst, yesterday won in the supreme court a complete victory over Governor Haskell in his suit to compel the governor to return certain papers seized at the instance of the governor.

Judge Strang, who presided, handed down a lengthy decision, holding that the writ of search and seizure issued under affidavit signed by Gov. Haskell, alleging that MacReynolds had in his possession papers which he intended to publish thereby libeling the governor, was without sufficient fact to justify the action of the officers.

The judge ordered that the papers and other property of Mr. MacReynolds be returned to him. In referring to the writ Judge Strang said:

"It does not rise to the dignity of such a showing as the law requires before the security guaranteed by the constitution against search and seizure shall be disturbed; for, while it states that the defendant has conspired it also shows that the affiant does not know any specific or definite person with whom he has conspired, or is conspiring; and this allegation is not followed by any alleged facts to support the allegation of conspiracy; neither does it present any facts as foundation for what follows on information and belief that the defendant has in his possession any papers with the interest to publish the same or otherwise use them as the means of libeling affiants."

Owing to an agreement reached several weeks ago, the papers of Mr. MacReynolds will remain in the custody of the court until the attorney for the governor has decided just what action will be taken "to continue the case to the higher courts."

EXPLOSION MAKES TERRIBLE HAVOC

Thirty Men Lost Their Lives Today in Pennsylvania Mine and Twelve More Were Fearfully Burned.

Pittston, Pa., March 2.—An explosion of gas occurred at the South Creek Slopes colliery of the Pennsylvania Coal company at Port Griffith this morning. Twelve men, terribly burned, were taken from the mine shortly after the explosion. Fire which followed the explosion caught thirty men like rats in a trap, and the rescuing party found it impossible to reach them. It is believed that all the men are dead. There were 43 men at work at the time of the accident. The twelve were rescued near the opening of the mine when the explosion occurred.

BOLD AND VICIOUS.

Attack Made By Negro on Young Woman in Dayton, Ohio.

Dayton, Ohio, March 2.—The boldest and most vicious assault since the murder of Lizzie Borden occurred in this city in broad daylight yesterday afternoon. The victim is Mrs. May Masarow, a pretty Hungarian woman, who was seized by a negro and only escaped after he had torn almost all her clothing from her and beaten her severely about the face in an attempt to drag her into a shed.

The woman was followed for more than three blocks by the negro, who appeared to be not more than 17 years old. After he had seized her she put up a plucky resistance, but was handicapped by an armful of parcels which she was carrying. The assault began some distance from the woman's home and she ran screaming into the house pursued by the negro, who was only driven off when her sister came to her aid.

Four hundred Hungarians of the neighborhood gathered in front of the house and after listening to a harangue by one of their number scattered and with arms in their hands began searching for the assailant. The woman was prostrated as a result of wounds and nervous shock.

QUARRYMEN MAKE DEMANDS.

Went Eight-Hour Day and Increased Wages For 1909.

Chester, Mass., March 2.—Delegates from the local quarrymen's union have presented to Superintendent Walter S. Legate of the Hudson and Chester granite company a new scale of wages to go into effect June 1, on the expiration of the present schedule. Heretofore the quarrymen have worked nine hours a day at a price per hour satisfactory to themselves. The national quarrymen's union now refuse to approve or nine-hour day schedule, so it became necessary for the local union to present an eight-hour schedule.

In doing so they have increased the price per hour so that in some branches of the work the men will receive even more for eight hours than they have formerly received for nine. In addition to this they ask for a further increase of one cent per hour in every class of work for the year 1910 over the advance already asked for in the 1909 schedule submitted, and which Superintendent Legate refused to accept.

Throughout the past season they have shipped in rough stock an average of 15 cars per month, which means a great deal to the industrial importance of Chester.

FIRE MAKES MANY IDLE

Oliver White Wire Works at Medford Burned

LOSS ESTIMATED $1,000,000

The Streets Are Lined with Booths and Streets Are Filled With Marching Organizations—The Plans for Thursday.

Medford, Mass., March 2.—The Oliver White Wire Works were destroyed by fire this morning, together with several other buildings, causing a loss which is estimated to have been $1,000,000. Included in the destroyed property was a livery stable, two blacksmith shops and other smaller buildings. CHILD LOST LIFE.

In Fire in a Lisbon, N. H., Residence Yesterday Afternoon.

Lisbon, N. H., March 2.—Fire was discovered about noon yesterday in a small one-story house near the railroad track just below Atwood street, owned by Wilbur M. Payne and occupied by Ed. Sautage and family.

The family consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Sautage and seven children. Mr. Sautage and eldest son, George, were sleeping in the room when the fire broke out, which resulted in the death of little Eva Sautage, aged 4 years.

It appears that the little girl was taking her bedtime nap in one of the little chambers under the roof, and when the fire broke out in the upper part of the house in some manner yet unexplained, the little body was found under the bed after considerable searching.

It was expected that the child had escaped and had been carried away by some of the neighbors, although the mother, who cannot speak English, insisted that one of her children was upstairs and said she heard her scream and call for help. The body was taken to the undertaking rooms of George T. Conner & Son.

The progress of the flames was checked so that the house did not burn down, only the roof being destroyed, but the lower part is not habitable on account of damage by water. The family saved most of the furniture, with the exception of the beds and bedding, which were in the chambers. There is no insurance.

The body of the child was found by Frank W. Little and Clint Presby, firemen.

The girl was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Levine.

THE MAINE ELECTIONS.

Further Gains Made By Republicans in Eleven Cities.

Portland, Me., March 2.—Further gains were made by the Republicans in the city elections held yesterday in eleven Maine cities. Republican mayors were elected in nine of them, a gain of two over last year, and Republican city governments in eight of them. Sacramento was carried by the Citizens Democratic combination and Lewiston by the Democrats as usual. The board of aldermen of South Portland will be Democratic through the loss of one ward, but a Republican mayor was elected. The same cities two years ago chose seven Democratic mayors and five Democratic city governments.

The Democratic losses yesterday were at Rockland, a Democratic stronghold, and at Bath, which is ordinarily Republican. All five mayors renominated were accorded a re-election. They were Irving L. Merrill of Auburn; Frank Simonton, Ellsworth; Dana Q. Skillins, Tallmadge; Frank Morey, (D), Lewiston; and Fred G. Moulton, South Portland. Wortman received a sentence of not less than 10 months nor more than 15 months at the house of correction. The sentence was later suspended on recommendation of State's Attorney J. C. Jones and Wortman was placed in the hands of Probation Officer A. T. Woodard of Castleton. The states attorney said that he understood that Wortman fired the shot while under the influence of hard cider. He had since disposed of all his cider and promised to keep out of trouble.

Klein and Joseph C. Wasson, charged with conspiracy, for the case of the late W. W. HE LOCATED THE COUPLE

This Barre Man Acted as His Own Detective

TWO HELD AT PITTSBURG

Antonio Baraffi Went After His Wife and Emilio Gusberti and After Finding Them Leads Officers to the House.

After working for three and one-half months in an attempt to find his wife, who is alleged to have eloped from this city on the 14th day of last November with Emilio Gusberti, Antonio Baraffi sent a telegram to a local friend last night, which stated that the couple had been found in Pittsburg, Pa., and were under arrest.

Baraffi is an expressman and resides on Granite street. Gusberti, the man who is alleged to have eloped with his wife, was for some time the proprietor of a barber shop at the corner of North Main and Granite streets. Gusberti was well acquainted with the family of Baraffi, but the latter suspected nothing until the barber fled the country, and Mrs. Baraffi and her two small boys went away from home.

Although the matter was reported to the local police at that time, they were able to secure no trace of the missing people, other than that Gusberti was known to have bought a ticket to New York. At the time that the complaint was entered, Baraffi stated to the police that about $100 was missing from his house.

A Pittsburg dispatch in regard to the case reads as follows:

Pittsburg, March 1.—One of the strangest elopements uncovered by the Pittsburg police in some years came to light here to-day, when Antonio Baraffi of Barre, Vt., found his wife, aged 39, with Emilio Gusberti, a likely looking young Italian, who had been a clerk in Baraffi's office in Barre.

Baraffi had detectives Shavin and Angelo into the house on Pennsylvania avenue this morning where his wife, two children and Gusberti were staying, and caused the arrest of the pair. They are locked up to-night, while Baraffi has his two children and to-morrow he will go into court and ask that he be permitted to take them out of the state.

Baraffi had been tracing his wife and children since Nov. 14 last, when they disappeared. He was assisted in locating them here by the First National bank of Montpelier, Vt., in which the woman had an account and on which she had been drawing for the past six weeks as $150 per week.

Baraffi told the police he was chloroformed when his wife was about to leave home. While he was under the influence of chloroform, he says, the couple ransacked the house, taking every cent they could find and all the jewels which could be turned into cash quickly.

Brattleboro, March 2.—Papers were filed yesterday with County Clerk F. D. E. Stevie in a $15,000 suit against the Fall Mountain Electric Light & Power Co., of Bellows Falls, by H. E. Eddy, administrator of the estate of Harry Tuckin of Bellows Falls, who was killed June 24, 1908, by contact with the wires of the Fall Mountain Telegraph company which became crossed with those of the Fall Mountain company. The property of the Fall Mountain company was then attached by Deputy Sheriff Dan R. Thompson. The father and mother of Tuckin reside in New York. The case is set for trial at the September term of Windham county court.

It is understood that among the demands made by the clerks are that the stores close Monday evenings and that the regular closing time be changed from six o'clock to half-past five.

Other stipulations in the bill are that the stores close on Wednesday at noon during the months of May, June, July, August and September; that they be closed all legal holidays without loss of pay to clerks; that two weeks' vacation be allowed without loss of pay, and that the stores close on Saturday nights at ten o'clock.

BARRE GOES "NO" ON LIQUOR ISSUE; A BIG MAJORITY

JOHN ROBINS. Re-elected Mayor of Barre for Third Term.

FINAL GATHERING OF CITY COUNCIL

Was Held Last Night—Former Tax Collectors' Books Were Reported On—Members Smoke on Alderman Ladd.

The final meeting of the present city council was held last evening, with all of the members present, and what little business there was left was promptly cleared up. A batch of 48 city warrants, including one for the mayor's salary for the past year, $225, were read and ordered paid. The report of the finance committee of their investigation of the old tax books of W. H. Buchanan and James R. Coutts was read, in which they stated that they found that $490.90 were due Mr. Buchanan from the city; that he had been to the personal expense of $70 per year because of names put on his books that should not have been there; that he had been treasurer officer, for which services he had never received payment, and that there was a bill owing him for plowing out sidewalks.

On Mr. Coutts's books they reported that they found $141.39 of collected taxes which he had never turned over to the city; that they found a large amount of uncollected taxes, some of which they thought could be collected, and that he was not legally entitled to any recompense for his services as constable. The committee in the report recommended the city charter should be changed so that the uncollected taxes of one constable could be turned over to the succeeding collector. On motion of Alderman Campbell, the report of the committee was accepted.

The building inspector reported favorably on the applications for building permits of John Cleary to reshingle one side of his house on North Main street, and to Frank G. Howland to put in a bay window on the front of the third story of the old Gladding brick block now owned by him. The permits were ordered granted. Old bills to the amount of $158.01 from the French library when proper vouchers for two of the bills were presented.

This finished all the business for the council and President Thurston then called a meeting of the board of aldermen to vote on a communication from the mayor naming Robert J. Duneau as call member of the fire department. On vote being taken, the name was unanimously confirmed.

During the meeting all the members of the council, the clerk and The Times reporter enjoyed fragrant cigars presented by Alderman Ladd, who was not a candidate for re-election this year. At the final adjournment of the board, Alderman Ladd immediately became busily engaged in cleaning out his private drawer in the council table, and Alderman Alexander laughingly remarked that it looked like "carrying in his kit."
